TO OUR PATIENTS:

At the time of service we will be submitting a claim to your insurance company for the various charges that have incurred. Depending on your individual policy, however, you may be responsible for portions of these charges in addition to what your insurance company reimburses. To make this easier for you to understand, here is a list and explanation of the most frequent charges that you may be responsible for.

CO-PAYMENT

This is an amount you will be responsible to pay at the time of your office visit in addition to what your insurance company pays.

DEDUCTIBLE

This is the amount that you are responsible for annually, before your insurance company begins paying. The specific amount is dependent upon your individual policy.

COINSURANCE

This is the percentage of covered charges that you will be responsible for in addition to what your insurance company pays after your deductible is satisfied.

If you have any questions about your individual policy, we would suggest contacting your insurance company who can aid you with understanding the specifics of your coverage.

If you have any questions about our statement you receive after services are rendered, please call our business office at 614-5113. We will be happy to go over any questions you have about the various charges.
